

GREAT WASTE OF FREE SEED

The Dealers Send Out Circulars Calling Attention to Abuses by Congress.

The Times-Dispatch Bureau,
Colorado Building,
Fourteenth and G Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., Dec. 6, 1908.
The dealers in seeds, wholesale and retail, who are interested in the suppression of the congressional free seed distribution, have sent out circulars to the entire seed trade calling attention to the rapid growth of the distribution and the scandals which have tainted it in years past. It is not charged that since the Department of Agriculture undertook to make the distribution itself that inferior seeds have been distributed, but it is alleged that a great deal of seed has been bought by the Department which proved to be infested by bugs and worms, and had to be destroyed.

The circular presents an interesting array of facts concerning the distribution. It states that "in 1906, 14,738,568 packets were sent out. In 1907 it is proposed to send out 45,000,000 packets, an increase of over 300 per cent. In five years, in 1911, $1,450,000 will be spent in the same purpose at the end of the present fiscal year, 1908. What will the proportion be in 1909? At the present rate of increase, not less than three quarters of a million dollars.

A resume of the distribution from 1899 down to the present time is given, in which the circular states that the last distribution covered a larger range of cheap varieties of seeds than had ever before been distributed. The Department not being able to buy as cheaply and to work as economically as the seedman, it was forced to use cheaper classes of seeds in order to stretch the appropriation so as to provide the number of packets to which senators and members of the House had been accustomed in previous years. To the same end, it is said, the packets were lightened. To the same end the circular notes that a newspaper recently published an article stating that many million packets of seeds, represented a valuation of about $20,000, left over from the spring distribution, had just been burned in the furnaces of the Department of Agriculture because it was discovered they were full of bugs and worms.

After pointing out that several firms, who are represented on the various committees of the American Seed Trade Association and the Wholesale Seedmen's League and who are charged with the duty of securing a suppression of the free seed distribution, are furnishing seeds to the Department and are thus inclined to view the distribution as a "good thing," the circular adds:

"On the other hand, there is every reason to believe that should the seed fact as known by the trade be brought to the attention of the public and the general worthlessness of the system and gross wasteful expenditure of public money be properly laid before the public, Congress would soon respond to the resulting sentiment and put an end to a practice which is already privately condemned by so many of its members.

New Settlers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILMINGTON, Va., Dec. 5.—A number of farms in this county have been recently sold to Northern and Western purchasers through Judge J. O. Shepherd, of the Virginia Land Agency.
Among the latest arrivals are Messrs.
Williams and Smith, who have purchased the Cherry Hill farm on the Rivanna.
Parties from West Virginia, Arkansas, and other points are now in the county viewing the different farms for sale and will in all likelihood catch their lot among the people of "Old Fluv."

Labor Shortage in Africa.

The Transvaal Labor Commission has reported that there is a total shortage of 211,000 laborers in South Africa, the deficiency being chiefly felt in agriculture and mining. There is a shortage of 40,000 men in the railway working alone.

With Ideas.

Yes, THERE IS SPACE LEFT IN the SCHWARZSCHILD vaults for Christmas gifts to be laid away until wanted. But the time space will be less to-morrow. Yesterday, to-morrow and each succeeding day finds the store crowded with happy buyers, who are doing their Christmas shopping now, for they know that their orders for engraving will receive careful attention, and there will be no doubt about getting work on time.

Diamonds are an investment, not an extravagance. People who bought them of us last year are bringing them back to exchange for larger ones. In such cases, we take the stones back at full price, the customer paid. Can any one doubt the quality of them, when we ourselves receive them as money? A taste for what is elegant may be gratified at small expense. No wonder that more buyers flock to the grand SCHWARZSCHILD corner.

You may have the article changed if you like. You can pay for same at your convenience after the holiday pocketbook strain is past. By comparison, on all articles, you'll find our prices 25 per cent. less than elsewhere. May we not see you to-day?

An Array of Diamonds.

All diamonds are mounted by us in such manner as shows the stone to the best advantage. They gladden the eyes of every lover of beautiful stones.

$10.00 Up.

Diamonds, Earrings, Studs,

Rich Xmas Brooches.

SOCIETY

young ladies on Church Hill, and the many friends of both the young people wish them all joy and prosperity in their new home.

The Cavalier.
"The Cavalier" a pleasant caller this week. He presented on his cover a picture of Colonel Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and author of "The Compromises of Life," a new book just issued by Fox, Duffield and Company.

"The Cavalier's" interior illustrations were very clear and artistic. Literary notices, the hunting pages, the poetry and society are delightful features in a sparkling number. The Times-Dispatch makes its best bow to "The Cavalier."

Personal Mention.
The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
Weston Davis, of New York, will be delighted to hear that they are now owners of "Morven Park," near Leesburg, and that they will spend at least a part of the year in Virginia.

Mr. Davis spent his boyhood in Richmond, and is descended from several of the most prominent families in Tidewater Virginia. Through his father, Mr. Davis has influential connections in South Carolina, the late Mr. Davis being a native of that State.

Miss Tallaferra, who has been the guest of Judge and Mrs. B. R. Randolph, at Mrs. Duval's, has left to visit her sister in Denver.

Mrs. Thomas P. Walls, of Philadelphia, who attended the Frischkorn-Mount-castle wedding, will return to her home Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Ellerson, of No. 316 East

Grace Street, has had as her house guests since Thanksgiving, Miss Anne Talbot, of Waynesboro, Va.; Miss Kate Wren and Miss Williams, of North Carolina. The house party is in honor of Mrs. Ellerson's niece, Miss Mattie Baskerville.

Miss Lucile Spratley, of No. 1000 East Clay Street, will spend the winter in Cumberland, Md.

Miss Helen Montague has returned from a delightful visit of a week to Mrs.
William McC. Ramsay, of Westover.
Mr. Ramsay will return from California next week to spend the Christmas holidays in his beautiful, historic Virginia home.

Miss Emmie Wherry, who has been visiting friends in Danville, Va., has returned home.

Miss Carrie Quisenberry, of No. 1000 East Clay Street, is visiting her cousin, Mr.
B. J. Quisenberry, of Washington, D. C.

Miss Dorothy Lee, Miss Anne Lee and Miss Frances Sparrow are the guests of Mrs. Robert Carter, at "Shirley," Va.

Miss Mary S. Parks, after visiting friends in Richmond, Norfolk and Washington, has returned to her home in West Virginia.

Miss Virginia Mosby Pleasant is visiting Madame de Sibour, in Washington, D. C.

One of the most interesting social events of the week will be the marriage on Wednesday, at Lower Brandon, of Miss Guillemia Harrison, to Mr.
Randolph Cuyler.
A number of invitations have been received here and it is probable that the ceremony will be witnessed by a party of 125 bride's Richmond friends.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN

The Steeplechase Season of 1903
One of the Greatest Ever Known.

MARKS ERA IN THE SPORT

Virginia Bred Horses Prominent, One of Them, Land of Clover, is Champion.

The steeplechase season of 1903, which will close with the Benning meeting now in progress at Washington, has surpassed in interest and importance that of any year in the history of the sport in America.

The Metropolitan and six private stables now backing this branch of racing, the money invested in breeding and training the special type of horse, the size of the stakes and value of purses and plate, are the intrinsic factors which have contributed to make the picturesque cross-country event so popular and invest it with so much fascination.

A few years back it was merely the element of peril and the partnership growing out of a personal sentiment for the rider that gave it life. To-day, however, a true ridden steeplechase is looked upon as a science exact as that of a performance on the flat, and now receive support as substantial, relatively speaking, as that accorded other branches of racing.

Virginia-bred horses have contributed materially to the success of the steeple-chases and hurdle races of 1903, having won a number of the most important events during this season. Land of Clover, the cleverly named bay gelding, 5, by Flatlands, dam Lucky Clover, by Bersan, ranks as the champion steeplechase horse of the year. He was bred by J. H. McGavock, of the Fort Chis-well Stud, Max Meadows, where his sire and dam are bred. This stout hearted son of Flatlands shouldered 157 pounds at Morris Park, New York, on October 3rd, and won the great $10,000 steeplechase, defeating the best horses in training, among them Self Preserver, winner of the same event last year, and who was once regarded as a likely candidate for English Grand National honors. The Fort Chiswell Stud also furnished another winner in the grey gelding Gum Honey, 4, by Flatlands, dam the well known as Henry Fox, bay gelding, 9, by Eolus, dam Lady Grace, by Romney, and Ninos, bay mare, 9, by imported Char-axus, dam Ninoile, by Eolus. During the earlier part of the season Charaxus raced under the colors of L. V. Bell, from whom he passed to William Lakeland and then to Edward Corrigan, of Chicago, his present owner. The son of imported Charaxus has shown almost constant improvement and Mr. Corrigan looks forward to making a performer of real class.
Sold and Ninos have figured as winners repeatedly in the Western tracks, the former finishing first in a handicap at 1-4 mile, 144 pounds up, in 4:54.4, and the International Steeplechase worth $1,000 at Detroit in June, while Ninos won at Latonia and other places.

The Ellerslie Stud of R. J. Hancock & Son, Charlottesville, furnished a trio of winners in that good horse Charaxus bay gelding, 6, by imported Charaxus dam Helmwind, by Eolus; Gouda, bay gelding, 3, by Eolus, dam Lady Grace, by Romney, and Ninos, bay mare, 9, by imported Char-axus, dam Ninoile, by Eolus. During the earlier part of the season Charaxus
raced under the colors of L. V. Bell, from
whom he passed to William Lakeland
and then to Edward Corrigan, of Chicago,
his present owner. The son of imported Charaxus has shown almost constant improvement and Mr. Corrigan looks forward to making a performer of real class.
Sold and Ninos have figured as winners
repeatedly in the Western tracks, the
former finishing first in a handicap at 1-4 mile, 144 pounds up, in 4:54.4, and the International Steeplechase worth $1,000 at Detroit in June, while Ninos won at Latonia and other places.

Imperialist and Arlus, both bred in the Valmont Stud of Pitts and Dorrier, Scottsville, were both good winners, the former being prominent as a performer at the Washington meeting now in progress. Imperialist, bay gelding, 6, by Nur-wood dam Gemma, by Helmday, won a steeplechase at two miles, 156 pounds up, in 4:57.1-4, at Pimlico in April, and has kept up a winning clip right through the season. He has met and beaten such as Nepos, set, Decamera, Lida Woodlands and others. Arlus, bay gelding, 6, by Norwood, dam Avril, by Brennan, won at Washington, April 2, a handicap steeplechase at 3 1-2 miles, 150 pounds up, time 6:20. Selling steeplechase at Pimlico, April 25th, two miles, 151 pounds up; time 4:12. The fields he defeated included Gold Ray, Strike-a-light, Ivan, Tank-ord, Decameron, Walter Cleary, Lida Woodlands, Bequest, Ill Used and Powhattan III.

Eophone, brown gelding, 6, by imported Rigoletto, dam Vestalla, by Tom Ochiltree, won the Kensington Steeplechase at the Washington meeting on June 5th.
Handicap, value to winner $100, time 5:11.
The gelding and three weeks later won over the short course with 153 pounds up, defeated Walter Cleary and others.
These races were run under the colors of Joseph E. Widner, of Philadelphia.
But later the gelding passed to Messrs. A.
B. and J. Temple Gwynne, of New York, and is now wintering in Canada.
Eophone was bred by Robert Neville, of Welburne, who owned the dam, Vestalla, and the grand dam, Vesta, the latter having produced three champions, highlighting several years ago. Imported Rigo-letto, the sire of Eophone, also got White Roberts.

Robert Bradley's Greenway Farm, Wilcox Wharf, is credited with two winners in Ed. Adach, black gelding, 5, and Paulaker, bay horse, 5, both of whom are Alphas, sire of the American Derby winner Robert White, to whom Ed.
Emminence, by imported Kyrie Daly, Paulaker's dam is Pink II, by Prosper son of imported Leamington. Both of these horses were raced at Chicago. Ed.
Adach won on September 4 over 3 the short course with 150 pounds up, in 3:23.
5, while Paulaker attached first money in several events and defeated some horses of pretty fair class.

Orange, Va., met recently and elected

....An Unprecedented Opportunity....

Beginning to-morrow morning we shall place on sale one hundred and ten Ladies' Trimmed Hats at a special price of..... $4.98

It makes little difference to the average reader what the advertised price of any article is. These at $4.98 were $8.00, $9.00, $10.00 and even $12.00 Hats and should be seen before buying or placing orders elsewhere. Patrons and friends know the class of merchandise we always sell—only the best—and this opportunity presenting itself now, when the millinery season, "at its very height," will give you the grandest possible opportunity of possessing the prettiest trimmed Hats you ever wore or seen for so little money. Many of these are Solid Black Velvet Hats trimmed with elegant ostrich plumes. Others with finest breasts and rich ornaments, and some made of Zibeline Cloth. The newest materials only used. In a word, they are beautiful, and we'd say come early for a pick. Other specials for this sale while they last:

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Hats, sold upwards to $8.50 and $4, will be..... $1.00 Folded Children's Hats in black and colors, usual price $5, will be..... $2.48

A bunch of Ups to add will complete this hat and ordinarily sells at about $5.50 or $7.

Misses' and Children's Sallors, usual price 60c. to 75c., will be..... 25c
One hundred dozen Red Children's and Misses' Wool Camel's Hair Tam O'Shanter; everybody's 25c 48c.; ours.....
Again we'd advise your early coming as many lines will soon be sold out, and no reserves.

officers for the ensuing year. The Horse Shows of this association, held annually at Orange, are among the best known and most popular affairs in that section, and have been uniformly successful.
The list of officers follows: President, William Dupont; vice-presidents, Thomas Atkinson, W. G. Grenshaw, Jr., W. W. Sanford; secretary and treasurer, Dr. L. S. Ricketts; Board of Directors, Dr. H. S. Williams, H. O. Lyne, T. O. Gillum, R. J. Elst, John W.
McComb, Dr. L. S. Ricketts.

The yearling trotting filly Sally Lunn, a bay, by Wiggin, dam Belle de Baron, by Alsatin, fell to bid of $1,000 made by J. Carr, of Butte, Montana, at the Fasig-Tipton Company's sale recently in New York. She was consigned by Mrs.
Roselyn Landon, wife of Capt. R. F.
Landon, Cobb's Creek, Va. Trained and driven by George Hossack, this filly trotted a mile in 2:24.1-2 over the half mile track near Cobb's Creek, this fall. She was bred by L. B. M. Bedford, Paris, Ky., from whom she was purchased in February last and brought to Virginia by Mrs. Landon.

Mr. H. M. Sackett, president of the Lynchburg Horse Show Association, Lynchburg, Va., has purchased the thoroughbred stallion, The Soman, by Sir Dixon, dam Ermintide, by Pat Malloy, son of Lexington, second dam Asteria, by Planet, third dam Austria, by imported Australian. The Soman will be placed in the stud, where his stout breeding fits him to sire not only race horses, but high class steeplechases, hunters and jumpers.

Mr. W. O. Warthen, prominent in railroad circles as district passenger agent of the C. & O. R. and also well known as secretary of the Richmond Horse Show Association, has returned from a trip West, which included Salt Lake City, Denver and other points of note.
Mr. Warthen returns with his post of duty much improved in health.

On Monday last Ellerslie bred horses figured as winners both at Washington and New Orleans. At the former Gouda captured a hurdle race at a mile and three-quarters, time 3:36.35, while Elton won at a mile and a sixteenth, doing the distance in 1:18.

William Du Pont, the new president of the Orange Horse Show Association, now owns the historic Montpelier estate, near Orange, where he breeds fine horses, Shetland ponies and other fancy live stock.

IS A PARADISE FOR ALL LOOK-LOVERS

No Matter What Volume is Wanted it Can be Found at Cohen's.

To the bookman it is a lingering delight, this huge assortment that has its beginnings in the dim and distant days when Homer sang and Plato sang his sweet songs of Greece, and its ending in the still productive present of Stephen Phillips and the horde of lesser literati that blink from the literary firmament.

Perhaps no store in the South has an equal for this great, and, in many respects, new, book department of Cohen's.
It is an untold number of miles around those counters and shelves, for by the time the buying step of the book-lover has brought him to the 100,000th volume, he has forgotten what he saw at the outset, and is nothing loth to turn back and begin again. Not the least consideration that moves him the while is that out of this store-house he may choose many things for his own; for a pursue, however depleted, goes a long way here, and the man who can produce the small sum of eight cents can buy the best thoughts of Plato, for which, in another type and binding, he may lay down eight dollars if he will.

All sorts and conditions of men find their way here—from the child after a nursery rhyme to the staid theological student hunting a fine Bible or a weighty encyclopedia; the airy-fairy devotees of Charlotte Bronte and "The Duchess" to the careful and reverent readers of a choice Badger or Thackeray or Addison or Gibbon. Everything is there, and the sole request is that a man with a warm heart and a cold pocket cannot carry them all away with him.

For the children, a gorgeous "Mother Goose," with many pictures of a fascinating hue of red, green, blue, can be had by some grateful mother for forty-five cents. The Allcott series for the little ones is also there in abundance. Here is the children's book par excellence, a sort of classic in its way, the Elsie series. There are other juvenile books galore. The thrilling Henty stories—what boy does not know them, and the time
